

G. O. P. BLAMED FOR HIGH SUGAR PRICE

Congressman Kincheloe in Speech At Spottsville, Tells Why Sugar Soared To 30c.

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 21.—In a speech today before a large crowd of Henderson county voters, Congressman David H. Kincheloe explained how the dilly-dallying of the republican congress was responsible for thirty cent sugar in this country. Had the congress accepted President Wilson's recommendation promptly sugar would have sold as cheaply as it did a year before, and almost a billion dollars would have been saved American purchasers. In part, Congressman Kincheloe explained the situation as follows:

"The Lever Food Control Act which was passed by a Democratic Congress during the war under which the sugar corporation operated, contained a provision ending the existence of the corporation when the armistice was signed.

"This sugar corporation bought the Cuban sugar crop of 1918 which was sold to American people at 11 and 12 cents a pound. The President in a message to the Republican Congress on the 8th day of August, 1919, called attention to the fact that the sugar corporation had ceased to function and urged this Republican Congress to pass an act immediately ending the powers of this sugar corporation. Hearings were conducted before a committee of the Senate having charge of this legislation and members of the original sugar corporation appeared before this committee and testified that they had no further powers under the original act by reason of the cessation of the war. Notwithstanding these representations by the President in his message and the members of the sugar corporation, the Senate failed to pass the law extending the life of this corporation until December 1, 1919. The Republican House did not pass it until December 16, 1919, and the House added amendments to the Senate bill which threw it into conference. The conference report was not adopted until the 28th day of December, 1919, and the bill did not become a law until December 31, 1919.

"Many weeks before that all the Cuban sugar crop had been sold to England and other countries and therefore the act was of no service to the American people. If this Republican Congress had passed the act immediately after the President had called its attention to the fact in his special message, the sugar corporation would have immediately bought the Cuban sugar crop at the same price it paid for it in 1918, and therefore, the American people would have purchased sugar as cheaply in 1920 as they did in 1919."

Traveling Men Favor Cox

Ashland, Ky., Oct. 21.—Traveling men of Eastern Kentucky met here and formed a Cox Commercial Travelers' Club. E. H. Phipps was elected chairman, and W. H. Caudill, secretary and treasurer. The club will back the candidacy of Cox and Roosevelt, Senator J. C. W. Beckham, and W. J. Fields for Ninth District Congressman. The club passed resolutions scoring scurrilous republican literature attempting to mislead traveling salesmen, which literature they stated has been proven false to their satisfaction.

SHORT STRIKE, PLAN OF ENGLISH WORKMEN

(By Associated Press) London, Oct. 21.—The decision as to whether the national union of railway men will transport workers of the union to join the strike of miners and thus completely tie up the British industries, is expected at meeting of organizations here today. Officials of both unions said they feared the men would vote to strike. It is said the railroad men propose a "strike of short duration," beginning at midnight.

GOV. COX CHARGES FALSE CRITICISM

(By Associated Press)

Washington, Oct. 21.—False criticism against Article X by Republican speakers was answered here by Governor Cox here today. He emphasized that congress only, and not the league, has the authority to declare war. League councils and decisions must be unanimous, and are only advisory. He declared the severance of diplomatic relations or an economic boycott be employed against an offending member by other members of the league must come before more drastic action, but "even then," he said, "congressional approval is required."

This afternoon the governor will go to Baltimore to speak in the same hall where President Wilson was nominated eight years ago.

ARMENIA REJECTS SOVIET ULTIMATUM

(By Associated Press)

Paris, Oct. 21.—Armenia rejected the ultimatum of the Russian Soviet Government demanding permission for immediate transport of Bolshevik troops through Armenia to effect a junction with the Turkish Nationalists in Asia Minor, according to advices received at the French Foreign Office. The belief is expressed at the Foreign Office that this will result in fighting between the Armenians and Bolsheviks. Armenia has requested aid of the Allies but no decision has been taken.

The Russian note also demanded that Armenia break with the Allies and reject the Wilson demarcation line. The Turkish Nationalists fighting the French in Asia Minor, shelled the American college at Aintab Tuesday.

WILLIAMS DISMISSED IN OIL FRAUD CASE

(By Associated Press)

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 21.—The trial of the officers of the High Gravity Oil Company, whose officers are under indictment on a charge of conspiracy to defraud, opened in federal court here today. Sixty-five witnesses were called by the government. It is expected to take two weeks to complete the case. Edward Davidson the first called for trial, entered a plea of guilty.

P. W. Witt, a merchant, and William P. Williams, a banker, of Irvine, were dismissed on account of lack of evidence.

S. M. Russell, Assistant District Attorney, said the government would undertake to prove William M. Sheridan, president of the company, and other officers, conspired to defraud the government and give the public no return value for money put in the company.

GILBERT GOES AFTER "SWOPE, THE KING"

Democratic Congressional Candidate Introduced By Col. Rippey At Lawrenceburg

Lawrenceburg, Ky., October 21.—Judge Ralph Gilbert opened his campaign for congress in this county this afternoon, speaking to an audience which more than filled the court room in the Anderson county court house. Judge Gilbert made several references to his opponent, Congressman King Swope, that vastly pleased the big audience of Democrats, men and women, and made an eloquent and scholarly defense of the League of Nations. He was introduced by his recent rival for the Democratic nomination, Colonel Frank L. Rippey, who made a brief, but earnest address in which he urged all Democrats to "get together and send a Democrat to Congress to represent this District."

Chairman R. B. Lillard, of the Democratic county campaign committee, called the meeting to order and announced the coming of Congressman A. W. Barkley to Lawrenceburg for a speech Thursday night and Mrs. Alice Bronston Oldham for a series of six meetings the last half of the week.

In presenting Judge Gilbert, Colonel Rippey said that it was "unjust to hold the hold the Baby Congressman responsible for the acts or the failure to act of the Republican Congress," for he said, Mr. Swope had answered mighty few roll calls during his service in the House. He said there were no sore spots on him and that he was doing all he could to send Judge Gilbert to Congress.

"Judge Gilbert is a sterling Democrat, a lawyer of ability and a Christian gentleman," he said, "I take pleasure in presenting to you your next Congressman, Judge Ralph Gilbert, of Shelbyville."

Judge Gilbert was given an ovation as he rose to speak. He expressed his deep gratitude for the support of those Democrats who had made possible his nomination and said that he had nothing but the kindest feelings for those who had opposed him in the primary and who had preferred Colonel Rippey.

Judge Gilbert declared that the campaign was unique in one respect. "Usually," he said, "the parties could agree upon the facts, but this campaign was marked by the constant and deliberate deception and misrepresentation attempted by one of the parties as to one of the leading issues of the campaign, referring to the League of Nations. He told of the offer by Republicans and Independents supporting Governor Cox to pay a reward of $25,000 for proof that under the provisions of the League of Nations the United States would be required to send her troops abroad to fight in foreign countries and urged that Congressman Swope qualify as a contestant for that reward by simply submitting proof of the statements he is making in his speeches every day.

Judge Gilbert showed that all the leading religious denominations of the world had endorsed the League of Nations, that farmer's organizations had backed it and that no humanitarian organization of any kind had declared against it, while leading humanitarians and philanthropists the world over had declared for it. Answering Congressman Swope's misrepresentations of the League he quoted from leading Republicans—such as ex-President Taft and Prof. Irving Fisher, in support of the League as a means of bringing peace on earth for all times.

"Pointing out the reasons why farmers should support the League of Nations, Judge Gilbert declared that the prosperity of the farmers depended upon stable markets. Stable foreign markets, he said, depended on world peace, as there could be no stability of markets or governments so long as the spectre of war stalked through Europe. The League of Nations, he said, by bringing about peace, would stabilize the markets of the world and give to the farmer that certainty of income necessary to his prosperity and peace of mind. He showed that Senator Harding had opposed the farm loan act and that in a speech in the senate he had said that $1 a bushel was a fair price for wheat.

Judge Gilbert repudiated as false and untrue the statement of Congressman Swope that he (Gilbert) had charged a citizen of Shelby county $75 for making out his questionnaire. The judge said he had never charged any man a cent for making out his questionnaire, but that, with all other lawyers of Kentucky, he had charged and collected fees for his services in connection with appeals to district boards or to the national draft board at Washington. "Some paid lawyers to go to Washington and get them a bullet-proof job," he said, "and others, like Congressman Swope, went in person and saved the fees."

Judge Gilbert explained his own failure to be in the army by the statement that he had married about 15 years ago and that he had obeyed the divine injunction to "multiply and replenish the earth, so that when the war came on it caught me with a house full of children." He said he had filled out his questionnaire, giving the exact facts, had not pleaded any exemption or cause for exemption, but had offered his services wherever he might be needed and that he had a certificate of honorable service from the government of the United States.

He asserted that he was in favor of the plan of bonus proposed in the Democratic national platform and backed by Governor Cox and that the bonus bill as passed by the house at the last session of congress was a sop intended to fool the soldiers, since it was known that it could not possibly get through the senate. "Why, under the provisions of that bill," he said, "Congressman Swope would himself get a bonus of $500—going from New York to Fort Dodge, Iowa."

Judge Gilbert exhibited two letters from Congressman Swope, in franked envelopes, written on congressional letterheads paid for by the people by a secretary paid out of the people's money, to persons in the district relating to personal and political matters solely and in no way to public business. Thousands of these have been written, Judge Gilbert said, to white and black all over the district and that they all begin: "My dear friends."

Judge Gilbert closed his speech with an appeal to the women to vote the Democratic ticket. "It means a vote to uphold international integrity," he said, "It means a vote for national prosperity, for peace on earth and good will to men; it means a vote for white supremacy in the land of the free and the home of the brave."

Judge Gilbert shook hands with several hundred men and women at the close of his address. Almost all the former soldiers in Anderson county are backing him in this race.

CITY COUNCIL MEET THURSDAY NIGHT

The regular meeting of the Richmond city council will be held Thursday night, and there will be routine business galore, it is understood. There will doubtless be some interesting discussion regarding the contemplated parking ordinance to be presented on it is probable this measure will go thru at this meeting, since it is known to be the desire of the members to have the ordinance decided upon and the laws made before the finishing of the street paving.

The exact plans regarding the ordinance pertaining to parking have not been decided yet. Some are of the opinion that it would be impossible to allow a parking period of an hour in one place for every machine, deeming it next to impossible to keep track of the vehicles. This idea which was presented by some recently, was given considerable consideration, however, it is not thought to be feasible.

BEREA FILLING WITH EDUCATORS

New Head of Institution To Be Formally Inducted Into Office Thursday

Incident to the inauguration of William J. Hutchins, incoming president, Berea College took on new life and the preliminary work of receiving the vanguard of the army of noted educators which began Thursday morning, was in evidence. The incident is perhaps to be made the most auspicious in the history of the historical institution. Never has there been such preparation made for a similar event here nor has there been such an array of intellectual personages in one group, as it were.

The program, which is both extensive and interesting, will mark one of the most progressive eras yet recorded at the school. The progressive spirit has changed many things. Elaborateness does not only characterize the reception and inauguration of the new head but applies to extended branches of teaching and the extension of the corps of instructors; the various features of the institution, including the hospital and others, which render it one of the foremost in this section of the country.

President Hutchins comes well recommended. The college has been the means of extending and broadening educational advantages to a wonderful degree; and the residents of the mountains have not been slow in realizing this fact. Its advantages have been embraced by hundreds and each year records an increase in the number of students enrolled.

The Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. features are but two of the numerous ones connected with the institution. This phase, alike to young men and women, is providing much interest in the way of special training and experience which will tell in later years. The agricultural facilities provided are out of the ordinary. A noted educator from the north recently stated the equipment together with the strength of the faculty was beyond his belief, until he made an investigation, whereupon he realized that the half had not been told. He actually admitted that the establishment throughout, was the best he had ever seen, and he was a noted traveler, as well as educator.

The training school for nurses, the Foundation School, together with other elements of learning, admit of the student not only learning what he or she desires, but to follow that selected work as a regular vocation. This is another result that will be accomplished by more than the usual success, a fact to be much in evidence in later years. The library, so essential to academic life, is conceded to be one of the best and most complete in the state. Its value is being recognized more extensively, especially by the hill people every year. The manner in which the management mixes sufficient sport and physical activity with the regular study renders the life of the student all but burdensome. The social facilities are equalled by a few greater institutions, if there be any.

The presence of so many great educators is but a well deserved and favorable credential that is due the institution for what it is, what it has done, and what it will do. The life of the student at the school, his happiness and contentment, is one of the paramount issues. The health is another, and this is looked after regularly. The hospitality of those both directly and indirectly connected with the school, is one of the greatest advertisements obtainable. Its record for congeniality and cordial reception is known far and wide. An illustration of this was in evidence Thursday when many of the earlier visitors were guided on an excursion wrought with almost every conceivable pleasure. Indian Fort, Pinnacles, Cowbell Hollow and other places of almost unsurpassing interest were visited. The entire day, which is being devoted to this, will not end the reception, for Thursday night there will be open house kept at the President's home.

The extensive program as it appeared in these columns Wednesday will be carried out and will insure the greatest degree of entertainment and enlightenment in an educational way to be found. The nature of the program will

RUNS INTO STILL WHILE CHASING BOY

In the vicinity of the intersection of Rockcastle, Garrard and Madison counties, near Berea, Deputy Sheriff W. A. Johnson, who is also truant officer of Madison county, went trailing after a boy—a delinquent at school. That boy led the officer thru underbrush and ravines, up one hill and down another for what seemed "many a mile," as the officer explained it.

Deputy Johnson knew he was on the right trail, and continued. He has not been an officer for 15 for nothing, and, like a deer that scents the enemy, stopped and sniffed. Then he sniffed again and started an investigation. His quarry was not far away, as the aroma wafted by the wind told him, although it was not the fugitive. It was a life-sized still, and not 20 yards away. There was the mash and everything, not only ready, but in operation.

Officer Johnson took a look about, but the operators of the still evidently saw him first, for there was no one in the vicinity. However, he went after the still, which he destroyed, bringing a part of it back with him. His investigation was so complete he claims to have a list of names to present to the grand jurors, who will make an investigations next Monday morning when they resume operation. I the excitement of the moment Officer Johnson forgot the delinquent boy—but felt that he was well paid for the tramp.

3 MURDER CASES BOOKED NEXT WEEK

Preparations have been made for and Thomas Gentry murder cases in Madison circuit court Monday morning. It is said there are a number of additional witnesses in the former case who will testify for the defendant. There are many coming from a distance. Some have been summoned, it is known, from Red Lick, the old home of the murderer of Robert Powell, who will testify, it is claimed, as to the character of the accused. Keeton, it is understood, will attempt to prove that he was forced to do the shooting, a statement said to have been made by him at the time he gave himself up to Jailor William Baigess.

It is believed there will be few witnesses in the Gentry case, since but a few people are said to have witnessed the shooting. However, the work of the grand jury is proving very effective, since it is known there are quite a number summoned to appear in court upon that date. It is not known which of the cases will be called first. The Andy Poff case will follow these two.

Mrs. Stanley Crutcher Dies In Austin, Texas

Relatives and friends have received news of the death of Mrs. Stanley W. Crutcher, widow of the late Rev. S. W. Crutcher, who formerly held the pastorate of the First Christian church here. Her death occurred at Austin, Texas, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. McIntosh. She was 80 years old. She had been a resident of this city for a number of years and was the daughter of Dr. L. L. Pinkerton, of Lexington.

Mrs. Crutcher was the possessor of a beautiful character and admired by her host of friends and all who knew her. She was an aunt of Mrs. Cabell Chenault and Mr. J. S. Crutcher. Death came after an extended illness due senility. The funeral and interment took place in the south-cemetery.

appeal to all, even the least interested will be inspired by the variation represented in it. The aggregation of celebrated orators and educators generally will represent, no doubt, more than one masterpiece, in taking their respective parts.

Indications are that the attendance will be, generally speaking, great, outside of the official program representatives, since the interest in the event has spread from cities and many from the mountains. All will be alike interested, perhaps not along the same line, however, the versatility represented in the program will mean an experience absolutely new to both classes—since such occasions are rare.

ELOQUENT PLEA BY GIFTED SPEAKER

Vivid Word Picture By Mrs. Ida McG. Gibson To Record Breaking Crowd

Mrs. Ida McGlone Gibson, of Chicago, spoke Wednesday night at the court house to one of the largest throngs that has ever packed the building since the political speaking commenced this campaign. People standing on the inside and the throng extending to the doorways outside and stepladders being utilized on the outside of the windows, and then many being unable to get even within these crowded confines, the crowd having gathered to a large extent two and a half hours before the speaking hour had arrived.

Mrs. Gibson had spoken here before—hence her type of delivery and manner of handling her subject was not entirely unknown to many in her audience, but to even those who heard her here during the recent World war it seemed her words were even more convincing, and her pleading more intense on this occasion. She spoke for more than an hour, holding the riveted attention of every human being present, and all had only regret to express when her address had ended. She had the flags of every nation stretched from one end of the court house to the other, representing every nation of the world that belongs to the League of Nations, with their brilliant colors, as it were, calling on the United States to take their stand and come in, and when she displayed the flag of the United States alongside with that of Russia, Turkey and Mexico, it did, indeed, seem a sad day for this country to be in company with such outlaw nations, and she made a very dramatic picture along this line.

She gave a wonderful description of the palace of Versailles and the signing of the peace treaty, when our own beloved Woodrow Wilson, gaunt and weary looking from the long strain, rose with the long work on article, the League of Nations. She told how during his sickness that every nation on the globe had sent wire after wire inquiring of our president's health, when no message had been sent from our United States senate or our congress, and expressed great shame for the country that such was the case.

Mrs. Gibson depicted a very touching scene when she described her interview with the sad-looking Queen Sophia during the negotiations of the peace treaty, and how in talking to the queen she asked her what she thought of signing the treaty. The queen replied: "What am I what am my people to the peace of the world?" It showing how tired even the Germans were of war and all its horrors.

She told in strong terms of how much prosperity we had enjoyed under Wilson, saying, "Not a man or woman in this audience but who has more now than you had four years ago." Her scathing denunciation of the DuPont Powder company, largest and wealthiest in the world, and others of like character, who were opposing the League of Nations because it would prevent war, and thus cut down their immense incomes from the slaughter of human beings with their powder, bullets, etc., was very powerful and made a telling impression on her hearers.

Mrs. Gibson opened the campaign with Governor Cox and stated at the hotel Wednesday evening that she would close the campaign also with the governor. She was very tired from the long strain and had to cancel her engagement at Ashland, remaining in Richmond all day Thursday in order to get a much needed rest.

It is the hope of one and all that we may have many opportunities of hearing such a forceful, powerful and delightful speaker as Mrs. Gibson.

"Get Ready For the Next War"

The great campaign cry of the Republican anti-leaguers is, "We want to keep your sons out of war by scrapping the league." And yet nothing could be more apparent to any man who thinks than that if the Republican fight on the league wins, the very first thing that America must do is to get ready for the next war. The great nations of the world have made the peace pact in good faith, this on America's insistence. A Republican victory can mean nothing else to the world than that America is breaking faith with those nations that, with her, organized the league covenant.

What will be our country's position under a Republican victory? First, we shall be in antagonism to the 40 nations now in the league. America's answer to a waiting world will be, "We have scrapped your league." "We are out," and to use Mr. Harding's own phrase, "we are for staying out." Forty allies thrown away!

In the second place, America will be hated by Germany, Austria, Russia and Mexico, the only important nations not in the league. These have old scores to square off who opportunity affords. Four more enemies! In all the world America will stand alone, without a friend or ally—deserter and an outcast.

In the third place, Republican victory will mean the outrage of our relations with both England and Japan. The Republican campaigners have charged England with almost every crime in the calendar, and so with. Victory for them will mean America's endorsement of these slanders. Republican victory will have succeeded in breaking up that unwritten alliance between the two great Anglo-Saxon peoples, England and the United States, and we will further have estranged Japan. Two more enemies, one on either flank! England and Japan are now in alliance; and having made for ourselves, for the sake of returning the Republican party to power, enemies of the both, we may expect to see them combine in future wars. With the leading nation of Europe on one side and the leading nation of the orient on the other, both enemies, America must get ready to fight, and do it at once.

A Republican victory will mean that America has deliberately thrown away the good will and respect of the world. Wars will be inevitable. The shame of it, and for politics' sake! That a party may come back to power!

Let no one be deceived by Mr. Taft's milk and water policy and his thirty signers with him for "a" league instead of the "the" league. These thirty men have not been consulted by anybody as to the handling of Republican affairs, except to ask them to "sign up." And when the league business is disposed of between the next president and the senate, provided it be Republican, Mr. Taft will not be there, nor any of the other thirty-one. Mr. Harding will be president, and he says "reject it." Lodge, Penrose, Smoot, Borah and Johnson will be in the senate and they say "scrap it."

Republican victory means war and can mean nothing else. It means war in which America will be fighting, not with allies who have first, with their millions dead, bled the enemy white, but with her back to the wall from the start, alone in all the world, and with not a single ally. Do the citizens of America want that? Do the citizens of America want laid on their shoulders the tens of billions of taxes for the building of a fleet to match Japan's new dreadnaughts and England's great navy? And other billions for the building of a great army? Is America willing, deliberately and unnecessarily to surround herself with enemies? Victory for the Republican program means all this. And for a party's sake!

If our country had entered the league in the beginning, with the clarifying reservations offered by Hitchcock and endorsed by Wilson, we would have been on the way toward disarmament and international good will. The world waits for America's decision November 2. It will be final. Shall it be for war or peace? For enmity or good will?

Charles Yancey Wilson, 87, former commissioner of agriculture and veteran of the Civil war, died following a fall at the Confederate home at Pewee Valley two weeks ago.

HARDING GUARDED, SAYS THIS WRITER

New York, Oct. 21 Maurice DeKobra, correspondent of a French newspaper, denied that he had approached Senator Warren G. Harding in reference to a proposal that America lead in the formation of a new association of nations.

"I never spoke to Mr. Harding in my life," said Mr. DeKobra. "It is true, however, that I tried to get an interview with Mr. Harding for the French newspaper that I am representing in this country at the present time. The French people are very much interested in the Presidential campaign and I have been writing articles for it, particularly on the controversy over the League of Nations."

"I interviewed Gov. James Cox on his views on the League and many other questions in connection with the Presidential campaign and of course I wanted to get Mr. Harding's views."

"When I called on Mr. Harding, however, I found he was surrounded by a strong guard. They would not let me near him, altho I tried several times to get him to grant me an interview. His guard seemed to fear that he might say something to me that would not make a favorable impression with the French people. Certainly I never made representations to anybody that I was here to speak for the French government on any international question."

LABOR APPROVES THE RECORD OF COX

Summarizing the records of the various candidates for national and state offices the Nonpartisan Committee of the United Trades and Labor Assemblage of Louisville has issued a pamphlet setting forth the labor votes and attitude of the candidates and is distributing the pamphlet to the organized workers of Louisville.

Prefacing the records, the committee inserts a foreword declaring that it is disseminating the records of the candidates solely for the information and guidance of organized labor and without comment.

The record of Gov. James M. Cox, democratic candidate for the presidency, is taken up first. His record from the time he first entered politics as a member of the Sixty-second Congress and including the last session of the Ohio legislature, is given in detail and while he has been Governor of Ohio the record shows there has not been a single action unfavorable to organized labor, according to the committee.

IS YOUR HEALTH GRADUALLY SLIPPING?

Interesting Experience of a Texas Lady Who Declares That if More Women Knew About Cardui They Would Be Spared Much Sickness and Worry.

Navasota, Texas.—Mrs. W. M. Peden, of this place, relates the following interesting account of how she recovered her strength, having realized that she was actually losing her health:

"Health is the greatest thing in the world, and when you feel that gradually slipping away from you, you certainly sit up and take notice. That is what I did some time ago when I found myself in a very nervous, run-down condition of health. I was so tired and felt so lifeless I could hardly go at all.

"I was just no account for work. I would get a bucket of water and would feel so weak I would have to set it down before I felt like I could lift it to the shelf. In this condition, of course, to do even my housework was a task almost impossible to accomplish.

"I was . . . nervous and easily upset.

I couldn't rest well at night and was . . . just lifeless.

"I heard of Cardui and after reading I decided I had some female trouble that was pulling me down. I sent for Cardui and began it . . .

"In a very short while after I began the Cardui Home Treatment I saw an improvement and it wasn't long until I was all right—good appetite, splendid rest, and much stronger so that I easily did my house work.

"Later I took a bottle of Cardui as a tonic. I can recommend Cardui and gladly do so, for if more women knew, it would save a great deal of worry and sickness."

The enthusiastic praise of thousands of other women who have found Cardui helpful should convince you that it is worth trying. All druggists sell it.

IN MEMORIAM

Dedicated to the memory of Mrs. Lucy Cornett Estes, who met a tragic death on September 24, 1920.

Being a charter member of the Christian church at Newby, she labored with us seventeen years, during which a part of the time she taught the young ladies' Bible class, thereby trying to lead them in the ways of righteousness. We will ever cherish her memory as one who maintained under all circumstances a character untarnished and a reputation above reproach. Her fellowship was an honor and a pleasure to enjoy. She was a companion to young and old alike who are grief-stricken because of the temporary severance of the sacred ties of comradeship. To know her was to love her. We can bear testimony to her many virtues of Christian life, and because of her untimely death sorrow has hung its sable mantle over our entire community. We pray that God in His goodness may bring speedy relief to all burdened hearts and thank Him for the confidence we feel that He has prepared for her transition into the more abundant life.—By a member of the church at Newby.

Which Bridge should a woman choose?

The Weak or the Strong One

If you see before you a strong and safe bridge leading to your goal, would you ignore it and choose some insecure and tottering structure?

If you were offered sure aid in time of trouble would you hesitate to accept it?

The answer is simple—you would choose what all evidence showed to be the safe way—and you would risk nothing in useless experiments.

Why then do some women risk one of their most precious possessions—their health—in trying medicines of unknown value, when everybody knows that the most successful remedy for woman's ills is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Here is more proof:

Reading, Pa.—"I had organic inflammation, pains in the side and back which were so sharp that they pulled me to my knees, and I could not walk. I had an operation and still I failed, and in the eight years I suffered I had four doctors and none helped me. My mother-in-law advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I was then in bed, and after the first bottle I could be out of bed, then I took Vegetable Compound Tablets and Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine and also used the Sanative Wash. I still take the medicine and am able now to do my own housework. My friends say, 'My! but you look well—what do you do? Who is your doctor?' and there is only one answer, Lydia E. Pinkham's medicines."—Mrs. Wm. Stein, 609 Douglas Street, Reading, Pa.

VOTING BOOTHS IN NEGRO BARBER SHOPS

Louisville, Ky., Oct. 21.—The fact that republican politicians who control election machinery in Louisville, have located the polling places in in negro barber shops and negro homes, has aroused Oklahoma democrats to the avoidance of similar conditions. Cam Campbell, chairman of the State Democratic Committee, in a public statement issued to the voters of Oklahoma calls attention to the deplorable condition in Louisville. "Is there a white woman in Oklahoma," asks Mr. Campbell, "who would voluntarily enter such a place?"

"Republicans know that there is not. They think that the white women of Louisville will not dare to enter the doors of these negro barber shops, negro pool halls and negro dives, and have invented this expedient to carry the state of Kentucky for Harding, and to carry it against Cox, who believes in a white man's government for the historic state."

"What republicans have done in Kentucky they would do in Oklahoma. Every man with a head on his shoulders knows that the trick employed by the republican managers in Louisville would be duplicated by the republicans in Oklahoma, in case this state should have the misfortune to fall into their power."

Louis Seibold, veteran correspondent of the New York World, who is making a tour of the country, writes as follows:

"The race issue is destined to play an important part in deciding the November election in Missouri as it unquestionably will in Ohio, Kentucky, Indiana and Oklahoma. The Republican National Committee is conducting a most systematic canvass of the colored vote in these states."

"Women of that race have no just cause for complaint of lack of attention. They are apparently proving most gullible victims of loquacious and persuasive organizers of their own race who are working under the direction of the republican state managers with profit. Some of the inducements held out by these organizations are appointment to office and social recognition at the White House."

"The republican managers in Indiana, Ohio, Oklahoma and Kentucky and Missouri, are seemingly stopping at nothing to line the negro votes for Harding."

Theodore R. Trunnell, of Christian county, a life long republican, has written Kentucky Democratic Headquarters enclosing a campaign contribution with a letter which states that he is unable to swallow the present republican candidate and will vote the democratic state and national ticket.

Dismay was cast into Louisville republican ranks when it was announced by I. W. Bernheim, millionaire philanthropist of this city, that he proposed to vote for a straight democratic ticket this fall.

Mr. Bernheim is a life long republican and has always been a

Pursuant to a judgment of the Madison Circuit Court entered at its October term, 1920, I will proceed to sell at public auction to the highest and best bidder, the following described tract of land in Madison county, Ky., on the Kirksville and Kentucky River road, to-wit:

A tract of 117 1-3 acres of land lying on Poosey Ridge turnpike, and joined by the lands of J. A. Ham on the east, M. Calico on the west, Joe Grimes on the north and Owen East on the south.

Said tract of land is improved by a substantial well equipped farm house, splendid tobacco barn also stock barn and a good tenant house. Said farm is the very best quality of limestone and sandstone land, and is practically all in grass.

Said property will be sold on the premises on November 10, 1920, at 10:30 a. m.

Said property will be sold and reported to the Madison Circuit Court for its approval, prior to the first day of January, and possession will be given to the purchaser on that date. The purchaser will be required to execute bond with good security, payable to the commissioner, due in 12 months after date and bearing six per cent interest from date until paid, and to be secured by a lien upon the land sold.

heavy contributor to the republican campaign fund in this state. He had three sons in the world war. "The League of Nations," he says, "is the world's holiest possession today. I am amazed at the republican politicians playing football with it. Though I still consider myself a good republican I am going to vote for Cox and the democratic ticket."

NEW FIRE SIREN CHATTERING TEETH

The new fire department siren was tested out for the first time during a fire Thursday morning when an alarm was sent in from the vicinity of the L. & N. depot, and there was some chattering of teeth when the apparatus got under way. Thomas Hardin, special fireman, who was on duty, believes some of the gold was knocked loose in his teeth as a result of the sounds emanating from the new device. "It was only turned on a little at that," quoth the fireman when explaining the manner in which it "operated."

The alarm took the department to the depot where some rubbish was burning, and it was feared the buildings would become ignited. There were no need for the firemen, however, they were on the job. The alarm was sounded at 4:50 o'clock, and soon afterwards firemen were scurrying in all directions, in quest of the fire. The siren will doubtless be placed upon the building instead of on the inside.

Before the fire department arrives, have your property insured by L. P. Evans, the insurance man of Richmond, and you will have no loss.

DREAM COMES TRUE

Hopkinsville, Ky., Oct. 21.—Awaking from a dream that his father's tobacco barn was on fire, Leslie Makers, 13 years old, rushed from his bedroom to the barn just as a tier pole in the structure gave way, dropping several sticks of the dry wood into the blaze.

PASSES UP "CINCY" AWAITS OPERATION

There is no place like Madison county, nor physicians and surgeons like those of this county, in the estimation of Hugh Collyer Wagers, son of Ambrose Wagers, of Cincinnati, the Queen City, notwithstanding. Young Wagers came to Richmond some time ago to enter a hospital to be operated upon. The big city hospitals did not look good to him, and he decided that since he fought thru the war, he would fight to get to his "old home," which he did, with the result that he came here and is awaiting his discharge in order to be regularly admitted to the institution. He will "fight it out on this line," he says, "if it takes all summer." He will wait in Richmond among friends, where he says he "feels at home," until his discharge arrives, when he will be admitted to the hospital.

"An Investment in Good Appearance"

As True as Gold Value-----

PRICES may go up and the buying power of a dollar may go down, but "gold remains true" always.

That about explains the situation with good clothes this fall.

A good suit or overcoat must remain a true value no matter the price.

—it demands so much all wool.

—and a certain standard of styling and tailoring and finishing.

You do not judge a good suit or overcoat by the price of it.

—you judge it by the quality in it, the worthiness of it, the service and satisfaction and wear of it.

Which would you rather have us do—offer you a suit deteriorated in value in order to be able to sell it at the old 1914 price of it?

—or pay what is necessary to maintain the standard of it?

—and offer it to you at the smallest possible price?

Well—there's only one way we serve the public and that is the latter way.

We are building a reputation with the famous value standard of

Kuppenheimer Good Clothes

We are not making the profit we should on them—that we would feel a fair profit if prices were lower.

This we do know—we are offering you the best suit of clothes made for the money asked—and are sorry that conditions necessitate it costing more to make clothes than it used to.

BOY HANGED AT PLAY; PARENTS AT FUNERAL

Memphis, Tenn., Oct. 20.—Playing "hanging" proved fatal to Charles Weiss, 11 years old, son of Sam Weiss, of Eurodo, Ark. A rope put around the boy's arms by several companions slipped, caught under his chin and strangled him to death. At the time the parents of the boy were attending the funeral of a friend.

THE AMERICAN FLAPPER

"The Week End" is a highly entertaining example of the way the American girl takes the law into her own hands when it comes to the question of choosing a husband. In this particular Cosmo Hamilton story the exemplary parents are so burdened with pedigree and worldly estate that it is difficult for them to keep pace with a perfectly normal young daughter who lives twenty-four hours a day. As the girl's carefree and unconventional doings constantly endanger the family's extremely correct reputation, which perfection dates from Plymouth Rock, the mother proceeds to pick out a son-in-law in line with her ideals as ballast for her wayward daughter. In other words the family honor is of more importance to her than her child's happiness. Here tonight.

GET THAT WOLF—TERSE ORDER AGAINST $25,000 MARAUDER

"Get that wolf." Is the sole order under which H. C. Williams, of Chester, one of the most experienced hunters in South Dakota, is working for the United States Department of Agriculture. "That wolf" is a wicked veteran with the cunning of a criminal human and with an account of $25,000 charged against him for cattle and sheep destroyed in the six or seven years of his depredations.

This big cattle thief has defied all efforts of hunters of that locality. One of the tactics credited to him is that after making a kill of a fat calf or steer and eating his fill he makes a long trail from his kill and back tracks on a parallel line a few rods away. He then lies in wait at a point convenient to the sheltering timber.

When the hunters trail him with dogs he watches them from his cover safely to the leeward to avoid his scent being carried. As the pack passes on the scent he quietly slips into the woodland and makes his getaway.

Stock raisers had about decided it would be necessary to board the old "vampire" for the rest of his natural life, or until he died from overeating; but the Biological Survey is determined not to be defeated by a wolf—and Williams promises to bring in the marauder before another season is ended.

INTRODUCING ENGLISH

(By Associated Press) Belgrade, Serbia, Oct. 21.—English is being introduced throughout the schools of Serbia. It is now made a compulsory subject in the normal schools. The first courses in English which were inaugurated in Belgrade a year ago under an American teacher, Dr. James Wild, of Chicago, have the government has decided to make the language a part of the curriculum of all schools.

REPORTS THAT CRIMES BECOME MORE NUMEROUS

(By Associated Press) Budapest, Oct. 21.—Professor Rusten Vambéry, a famous criminologist of the Budapest University, has told the correspondent of the Associated Press that the number of heinous crimes has been increased in the war-defeated countries of Central Europe to ten times their pre-war percentage. "The criminal, in his revolt against society, is becoming more and more desperate," he said. "The continual increase of crimes, however stupefying in itself, is far less appalling than the increasing inhumanity of the criminal."

SIDE WALKS COME IN ON NEXT ISSUE

Property Owners Will Be Prevailed Upon To Assist City
In Some Instances

Now that the streets of the city are being put in shape for winter, it is expected attention will be given the sidewalks, to finish the job, and an ordinance compelling property owners in some instances to make the improvement in front of their buildings will not be a surprise at the next meeting of the Richmond city council.

The condition of sidewalks, especially in some places along Main street, is "shown up," so to speak, since the new paving has been placed. The city will be under obligations, it is declared, to repair a certain portion of the sidewalk, changed by the paving, however, the intention of the ordinance is to insist upon the improvement of the entire width of the walk in some places. This, Councilmen believe, will place the thoroughfare for pedestrians in good as well as attractive condition. A systematic grade is advocated in some places, which would eliminate some unsightly bumps. This the property will be called upon the remedy, according to the opinion of some, and it is believed they will readily comply with the request, since civic pride is being awakened since the effect of the street paving has been so much in evidence.

Some of the merchants, it is also known, are desirous of having the sidewalk improvement made for convenience sake and the sake of appearances. With the work partly done by the city, it is believed there will be few, if any, objections upon the part of property owners to take up the work and do their share. This improvement, it is said, would cause the sidewalks to become much more commodious, and it is believed all the room possible will be necessary when the street paving has been completed.

Big Reduction in Columbia and Pathe RECORDS

After discontinuing the Columbia and Pathe lines of talking machines and records we find that we still have in stock around a hundred or more Columbia records and fifty or more Pathe records, and we are going to sell them at the reduced prices:

The $2.00 Records	$1.25
The $1.50 records	$1.00
The $1.25 Records	.85
The $1.00 Records	.65

These are all popular numbers and you would pay the regular price if you bought them from other dealers. Come in—we'll be glad to play them for you. We have discontinued these two lines and carry only Victrolas and Edisons—we believe the two best lines made—and the best is none too good for our customers.

RAW-RECRUITS DEFEAT EASTERN NORMAL TEAM

There was some football Wednesday afternoon at the Normal campus when the members of the Normal got in "touch" with the members, or rather the young men, of the American Legion, who will comprise the local post team for the season. The practice work was turned into a real game, it is claimed, with the Normal boys getting the worst of the fray.

There was a goodly number of legion men out and their work is said to have been out of the ordinary for a starter. They will play the Berea post team here on Armistice Day, November 11.

"WATCH YOUR STEP" FALL FIRES ARE DUE

"Watch your step," is the warning of Mayor L. P. Evans and other officials of the city in regard to placing fires in stoves for the first time during the fall. The great danger is that many have the stoves or grates stuffed with paper and trash, one official said, with the result that fire is caused either from the extreme heat or flying embers from the first fire made. Chimneys are also stopped up in some instances, it is reported, and there is also danger of fire from this source.

with which they start the first fire, there will also be less danger of a building being ignited. During this time of the year, the "fall fires," as they are termed, are generally reported. Last year there was a series of fires, none of them very expensive; however, there were many calls made by the fire department and the loss amounted to considerable.

POLICE WARNING HAS BEEN HEEDED

The warning issued to a number of contractors who admitted of material for new buildings to be strewn about the paved streets has been heeded, and there have been no arrests. For some time there was a misunderstanding relative to the ordinance, however, the police informed the contractors they would be liable to a fine, and the first one of the kind, unless they persisted in keeping the material out of the street. The result of the warning was satisfactory. There have been no violations of any of the ordinances, it is understood, although several residents have been warned, some of them stating they were not familiar with the new rules issued to protect the streets. The several ordinances, if observed, and the police insist that they will be, are sufficient to protect the newly paved thoroughfares as they should be. Fines are expected to be levied upon the first violators.

BIG SCHOOL FAIR AT SCAFFOLD CANE

Samples of Students' Work Prove Surprising and Development Is Being Advocated

The first school fair of the year at a Madison county school is in progress at the Scaffold Cane school, and there is on exhibition a large display of the work of the students of the institution. The exhibition includes results of the manual training, domestic science and class work generally, and is said to be the most extensive and complete seen for years.

Some of the students are said to have demonstrated great aptitude for the various classes of work, a their work indicates. There are in attendance Superintendent B. F. Edwards, of the county schools; Mrs. Edwards, a number of the principals of the graded schools of the county as well as a number of teachers from the nearby schools. The privilege was granted teachers in schools in that neighborhood to attend and some of them took advantage of the opportunity and dismissed their students. The affair is said to be of unusual interest and is very instructive. It is probable there will be some pointers gained at the exhibition which will add to the importance of the school carnival to be held in Richmond later on. It is probable there will be additional fairs of this character held in the schools of the county and a comparison of the work of the students made.

There have been samples of work by Madison county students, since the introduction of manual training and domestic science that have attracted the attention of many, some of their critics, who have advocated future exhibitions in order to maintain the highest standard of work through the interest gained by comparing the result of work. The members of the county board have been advocating this method, and it is probable there will be more fairs held during which one day will be devoted to the showing of the work of the students. This brings about, it is said, many of the instructors, as well as the parents of scholar and the general result is that there is a keener competition upon the part of the teachers to have their students do well, as well as the students themselves, thus adding to the importance of the new phases of teaching in the schools of the county, for which the state is becoming noted.

OIL AND GASOLINE CONSUMPTION BIG

While the reports for the gasoline distributed throughout the city and county have not been received as yet, there is every indication of the past month having exceeded all others, although August bounded away ahead of July. The increase in the use of oil and gasoline both has been very decided during the past four months. Since the tax reports have been issued there has been a steady increase. The cause is not known. However, the demand has been out of the ordinary during the past fortnight, dealers assert, and the indications are that the consumption for the present month will surpass that of last month, which is believed to be the biggest of the year. Some state the increase in the use of coal oil is caused by the cooler weather, which causes more people to stay at home, the major portion of whom use coal oil for
